French Resident Resells Bronx Flat at Profit-Operator Sells House.

Emulating her husband's desire for high class realty as an investment, Mrs. Gladys Watson Ziegler entered yester day into the real estate field as a buyer, taking for her initial purchase the big schermerhorn apartment, covering the schermerhorn apartment, covering the Realty Company.

Arthur J. Hopper were elected directors of the company.

A regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. payable on January 16, was voted by the Alliance Realty Company and a similar dividend, payable December 27, was voted by the South Ferry block on the west side of Madison ave- Realty Company, sue from Eighty-second to Eighty-third street. She gave the Princeton Construction Company, which built it in 1911, her property at the northeast corfourth street, a fift from her husband, and some cash. This property and the Schemerhorn apartment were valued in the market at $1.200,000. Mrs. Ziegler was advised in the deal by Jeury Watson, her father, who has acted as broker in all of Mr. Ziegler's really purchases, which now stal about 15.000.000. The Schemerhorn, the The Schermerhorn is ter into all tes of eight and nine rooms with inthe it rents for $91,000 a year. It is the plan of the Princeton company to improve the corner taken in part payment with a tail apartment house. The site measures 102.2 feet on the avenue and 125 feet on the street. The Santa Margarita, a seven story apartment house of the old type, covers the immediate corner. The remainder of the mediate corner. The remainder of the site holds dwellings. Alfred C. Marks was associated as broker in the trans-

Boston, Dec. 27. - Members of the Federal Trade Commission investigating the packing industry arrived from Washington late to-day on a train that was delayed eight hours, causing a postpone-ment of the hearing in this city until tomorrow. The inquiry here will continue through Saturday. Francis J. Heney, special counsel for

Yards Company, would not be subprenaed to testify. He said that neither Mr. Prince nor any other of the financial leaders of the stock yards organization would be called.

"If any of these men were subpensed and testified," he added, "it would mean an immunity bath for them; that is, if they testified they could claim immunity from prosecution if any violation of the law was discovered."

Mr. Heney said that he and Hugh Mc-Isano, another, special atterney, for the Mr. Heney said that he and Hugh Mc-Isaac, another special attorney for the commission, talked with Mr. Prince here several weeks ago and obtained the whole story of the Chicago Stock Yards

That the Boston inquiry will extend beyond the alleged financial connections of New England bunking interests, the packers and the stock yards utilities was we are trying to follow the costs of production and distribution clear to the mouths of consumers," he said, "and one of the things in New Engiand we shall inquire into is why the production of cattle, sheep and hogs has failen off, and to what extent." He declined to say what what extent." He declined to say what witherses had been summoned to testify. "We expect to come here again soon," Mr. Hency continued. "We also expect to hold a hearing in Philadelphia. This is because of peculiar conditions which have been found by our investigators. It is impossible for me to say now what those conditions are.

"We plan also to go to New York and thence to Chicago. We shall undoubtedly visit Hansas City and St. Paul and probably go as far as Denver. It will be
